नारी तुम केवल श्रद्धा हो,
विश्वास-रजत-नग-पगतल में |
पीयूष-स्रोत सी बहा करो,
जीवन के सुंदर समतल में |

Remarkable lines by famous writer Sh. Jay Shankar Prasad point to the power of women, which is the foundation of our Indian society. Indeed, human life is incomplete without women's power. Highlighting the unforgettable contribution and importance of women's power, the Sub-Regional Office, Gurugram, celebrated International Women's Day 2026 with great fanfare.

To commemorate International Women's Day 2026, a function was organized for women employees at the ESIC office, Gurugram, under the chairmanship of Office Head, Mr. Sunil Yadav. Expressing his views, the Office Head stated that this day is not only a day to remember the struggles, achievements, and contributions of women, but also to take steps to protect their dignity and self-respect. He highlighted how today's women are not only managing their homes and families but are also making invaluable contributions to the nation's progress in both government and private sectors.

The program began with the lighting of five lamps by the women of the office. This was followed by the Saraswati Vandana. On this occasion, the women employees of the office presented cultural performances, including songs and poems. Women employees emphasized women's power through poetry and speeches, emphasizing that women are a force that advances with confidence and strength, making their mark in various fields on the global stage. Speaking on the theme of International Women's Day 2026, "Rights and Justice, along with Real Action for the Empowerment of Every Woman and Girl," and the "Give to Gain", Public Relations Officer Dr. Sweety Yadav explained that campaign emphasize the importance of mutual cooperation and generosity for gender equality. She told that India is no longer limited to "welfare schemes for women," but is prioritizing "women-led development." This is an acknowledgment of the fact that women are the true force driving economic and social progress. She explained that the right to equality and universal adult suffrage guaranteed by the Constitution have ensured that women not only enjoy equal status in India's democracy but also have an equal say in the governance system. Various government initiatives in the areas of education, health, financial inclusion, and security are creating a strong ecosystem for women's empowerment.

Insured women of ESIC and women pensioners of the office were honored at the event. All women employees of the office were also honored with gifts.
